Set Gmail as the default email handler in Chrome

Follow these steps to setup Gmail as the default email handler in Google Chrome.

1. Visit http://gmail.com in Google Chrome and click the protocol handler icon in your browser's address bar
2. Make sure `Allow` is selected and then click `Done`

That's it! Now and in the future when you click on a `mailto:` link, it will automatically open in Gmail.

You can also view a video on how to do this on YouTube.
